PREFACE

This is the 15th edition of Black Elected Officials: A National Roster, compiled by the Joint Center for Political Studies. Since the publication of the first edition in 1971, the Roster has been chronicling the steady increase in the number of black elected officials in the United States. In 1970, only 1,469 blacks held elective office; 16 years later, that number had more than quadrupled. In January 1986, there were 6,424 black elected officials, which represented an increase of 368, or 6.1 percent, over the figure for 1985.

The year 1985 was a period of significant breakthroughs in black electoral progress. L. Douglas Wilder became the first black lieutenant governor in Virginia's history; he was also the first black candidate to win a statewide election in the South since Reconstruction. And Alyce Clarke became the first black woman ever elected to the Mississippi state legislature. As those elections and the data in the Roster conclusively demonstrate, electoral politics remain an arena in which black Americans have been advancing.

Nevertheless, in several respects the position of blacks as elected officials remains unchanged. First, black elected officials compose a disproportionately small percentge of all elected officials in the United States. Second, in recent years the rate of growth in the number of black elected officials has declined significantly, compared with the rate of growth during the early 1970s. Third, black elected officials hold few federal and statewide offices: in January 1986 the number of blacks in the U.S. Senate was 0 and the number in the U.S. House of Representatives was 20 (19 voting members and 1 nonvoting member); 4 blacks were in statewide administrative posts, and 8 were in state courts of last resort. Further growth in the number of black elected officials, therefore, is needed and will depend on the ability of black candidates to appeal to nonblack electorates.

The current edition of the Roster was prepared under the overall supervision of Dr. Milton D. Morris, director of research. Dr. Linda F. Williams provided day-to-day supervision. Carolyn Barnett-Jones managed the data collection process, assisted by Roster clerks Alfred Baltimore and Darryl Fears. Volunteers, interns, and other members of the JCPS staff generously contributed time and effort. In particular, we gratefully acknowledge the fine work of Jeri Boyd, Todd C. Shaw, Jensen Shirley, and Constance Toliver.

BLACK ELECTED OFFICIALS IN 1986: AN OVERVIEW

This 15th edition of the Roster provides data on one extremely important area of black political participation: election to public office. These data show that between January 1985 and January 1986, the number of black elected officials (BEOs) in the United States increased from 6,056 to 6,424 (an increase of 368, or 6.1 percent, see Table 1). The increase occurred in every region and in every category of office for which elections were held in 1985. And 102 of the BEOs took office in jurisdictions where no black had ever before held office.

At county-level offices, 70 additional BEOs were sworn in, most of them in Georgia and Mississippi. The catalyst for many of those black victories was the shift from at-large to district election systems.

In three cities (Boston, Massachusetts; Birmingham, Alabama; and Mitchell, South Dakota) blacks were elected council president for the first time. Voters in Manhattan elected a black borough president. Incumbent black mayors were returned to office in Los Angeles, California; Atlanta, Georgia; Charlotte, North Carolina; Detroit, Michigan; and Hartford, Connecticut.

Despite those significant victories, blacks still hold fewer than 1.5 percent of all elective offices in the United States (Table 2) while constituting almost 11 percent of the total voting-age population. Moreover, the rate of growth in the number of BEOs has slowed dramatically since 1976 (Figure 1). Between 1970 and 1976 the average rate of growth was 18.2 percent, but since 1976 it has been only 4.9 percent.

The remainder of this "Overview" discusses the distribution of black elected officials in terms of geography, sex, and level of office (federal, state, substate regional, county, municipality, judicial and law enforcement, and education).

Geographic Distribution

The geographic distribution of black elected officials roughly parallels the distribution of the black population. The South has 53 percent of the U.S. black population and 63.8 percent of all BEOs (Table 3). The North Central region has 19.8 percent of the nation's black population and 19.6 percent of all BEOs. The Northeast, with 18.5 percent of the black population, has 10.9 percent of the BEOs; and the West, with 8.9 percent of the black population, has 5.7 percent of the BEOs.

Mississippi, the state where blacks compose the highest proportion (30.8 percent) of the voting-age population, also has the highest number of BEOs (521—roughly 10 percent of all the state's elected officials). At the other extreme, in four states (Idaho, Montana, New Hampshire, and North Dakota) blacks compose less than 1 percent of the population and there were no black elected officials in January 1986. In all 50 states, the proportion of elective offices held by BEOs is smaller than the black proportion of the voting-age population.

Interestingly, the 10 states with the largest concentrations of BEOs (Table 5) all have three characteristics in common. The states are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Texas, and what they have in common are the following:

- Women compose more than 12 percent of the state's BEO total and, except in Texas, are represented at both the state legislative and the mayoral level.
- Blacks constitute at least 7 percent of the state's voting-age population.
- During the past year, at least one officeholder with "first black elected" status was elected within the state.

Women BEOs

During the past 10 years, the number of black women elected to office has more than doubled, rising from 684 in 1976 to 1,483 in 1986. Twenty-three percent of all BEOs are women, and approximately one-third (or 124) of this year's newly elected BEOs are women.

Of all the elective offices held by black women, 50 percent are municipal positions, including 40 mayoralties (Table 6). Thirty-two percent are education positions. Among the municipal offices of treasurer, executive commissioner, recorder, and clerk, women BEOs outnumber men.

The largest contingents of women BEOs are in Washington, D.C. (113), Illinois (109), Michigan (98), Mississippi (95), California (94), and New York (91). This distribution (Table 4) is quite similar to that of black officeholders as a whole.

Several women were elected to offices higher than the ones they had held before. For example, Phyliss Young, formerly an advisory neighborhood commissioner in Washington, D.C., was elected to the school board; and Willie Mae James Leake, previously a member of the council in Chester, Pennsylvania, was elected the mayor of Chester.

Mayor Leake was also one of three women who were elected to positions that had never been held by a black. The other two were school board member Dorothy Martin Long of Everett, Massachusetts, and city councilmember Irmatean Watson of Malibu, Alabama.

Federal

The 19 black voting members of the U.S. House of Representatives make up 4.4 percent of the entire 435-member body.* Geographically, the distribution of black representatives contrasts sharply with that of the other categories of BEOs. Forty percent (8 representatives) are from the north central states of Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, and Ohio. The West, South, and Northeast have 4 representatives each, all from urban districts.

*There are also 4 nonvoting members of the House, 1 of whom is black.

Twelve of the 20 black representatives were elected from predominantly black districts (Table 7). Eight of the 20 were elected from districts where blacks are less than 50 percent of the voting-age population. The 8 are California Representatives Ronald Dellums, Julian Dixon, and Mervyn Dymally; Missouri Representatives William Clay and Alan Wheat; New York Representatives Charles Rangel and Edolphus Towns; and Texas Representative Mickey Leland. Of these 8, however, all except Wheat and Dellums represent districts in which blacks and Hispanics together account for well over 50 percent of the voting-age population.

The last black to serve in the U.S. Senate was Edward Brooke, a Republican from Massachusetts. He completed two terms before being defeated in 1978.

State

Statewide elections last year took place only in New Jersey and Virginia. Newark Mayor Kenneth Gibson lost his bid to become governor of New Jersey, and in Virginia, State Senator L. Douglas Wilder won the office of lieutenant governor. Wilder's victory had a sort of domino effect in reverse: his vacated senate seat was filled by black former State Delegate Benjamin Lambert, and Lambert's vacated seat, in turn, was filled by Jean Cunningham, a first-time BEO. Virginia voters elected two other first-time BEOs to the state's House of Delegates: in District 80, former Housing Authority Commissioner Kenneth Melvin unexpectedly defeated L. Cleaves Manning, a white incumbent, in the Democratic primary, and had no opposition in the November election; and Mary Christian, an independent, defeated Democrat Thomas Glascock in District 92.

In New Jersey, voters returned all seven black incumbent state legislators to office. In Connecticut, Henry Parker resigned his post as state treasurer in January 1986.

The first of six state-level victories by blacks in special elections took place in March, when Alyce Clark was elected to the Mississippi state legislature (she was the first black woman ever elected to that body). In the other five states, blacks won legislative offices left vacant by the death or resignation of other BEOs: Gloria Fox won a special election to replace Doris Bunte as state representative in Massachusetts; former state representative Kay Patterson took over the unexpired term of I. DeQuincy Newman in South Carolina's state senate; in Pennsylvania, James Roebuck, Jr., won the office of state representative previously held by the late James Williams; David Paterson of New York City was elected to the state senate seat left vacant by the death of Leon Bogues; and Mary Pruitt was elected to replace her late husband, Charles, as representative of District 58 in Tennessee.

Florida had the largest number (27) of black state legislators, but Alabama was the state where the largest proportion (17.1 percent) of the state legislature was black.

Substate Regional

The 31 BEOs holding substate regional positions were elected in only three states (California, Illinois, and North Carolina) and the Virgin Islands, which has 24 of the BEOs in this category. Substate regional officials administer activities that involve two or more counties or municipalities and that provide services such as transportation, park maintenance, fire protection, conservation, recreation, and education.

County

Between February 1985 and January 1986, the number of blacks elected to county offices increased by 70. The vast majority of these additional BEOs (62) represent counties in southern states, many of which held elections in 1985 because of redistricting or a change in the electoral system. Fourteen of the newly elected county officials were the first blacks to hold office in their respective jurisdictions. Among these pioneers are Joe Mallisham of Tuscaloosa County, Alabama; Manuel Lee Welch of Copiah County, Mississippi; and Raymond Corbin of Crawford County, Georgia.

Municipalities

The largest group of BEOs is composed of those in municipal offices. Since 1985, the number of black officeholders at this level has increased by 214, for a total of 3,112. The largest municipal subgroup is councilmembers (2,396), followed by mayors (289).

Three cities gained black council presidents for the first time: Boston, with second-term councilmember Bruce Bolling; Birmingham, Alabama, with William Bell; and Mitchell, South Dakota, with Leonard Williams.

Four mayors in metropolitan areas—Thomas Bradley in Los Angeles, Andrew Young in Atlanta, Coleman Young in Detroit, and Thirman Milner in Hartford—were returned to office for another term. However, incumbent mayors James Chase of Spokane, Washington, and Elma Pringle of Forest Park, Oklahoma, decided not to run again. Black challengers defeated black incumbent mayors in Grambling, Louisiana, and East Orange, New Jersey. Richard Ludley and John Hatcher, Jr. were the winners; Richard Gallot and Thomas H. Cooke were the defeated incumbents.

Twenty-eight black mayors were elected from cities with populations greater than 50,000 (Table 9). The total number of black mayors increased by three.

Judicial and Law Enforcement

Fifteen judicial and law enforcement officials were added to last year's total, bringing the number of BEOs in this category to 676.* Of the 676, eight were judges of state courts of last resort, and 366 were judges of other courts. The greatest increase in the number of judicial and law enforcement officials came in the South.

Education

The number of education officials increased by 66, bringing the total to 1,504. The largest group of education officials (96 percent of all the BEOs in this category) was the 1,437 local school board members. Forty-six BEOs were members of university and college boards.

Twelve county-level school superintendents were elected in the South: seven in Mississippi, two in Florida, two in Georgia, and one in Alabama.

Conclusion

In 1985 blacks continued to make progress in winning electoral office, but the rate of increase remained far below the double-digit rates of the early 1970s. This can perhaps be explained by the fact that the great majority of blacks who seek public office depend heavily on electoral support from other blacks to win; but there are fewer and fewer majority-black places that do not already have BEOs. Thus, increasing the number of BEOs may require not only stricter enforcement of laws protecting black voting rights but also an ability on the part of black candidates for public office to attract more votes from groups besides their own.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

The Roster is arranged by state or territory. Within each state or territory, entries are grouped according to category of office, beginning with federal offices, followed by state offices, and then local offices. Overlap does exist (e.g., education offices include offices at state, substate regional, county, and municipal levels), but the pattern of overlap is consistent. Individual entries contain the official's name, title, jurisdiction, preferred mailing address, and date on which the term of office expires. The Roster state pages, which precede the entries for each state, contain basic population data and information on governmental organization within the state.

The term "elected officials" refers only to persons elected by popular vote to public office in a governmental capacity. Elective offices are those authorized by the U.S. Constitution, state law, or special provision. Not included are persons elected to leadership positions in political parties (committee members, district leaders, ward or precinct captains); public officials who are selected by boards, commissions, or councils; and appointed officials. However, persons appointed to fill vacancies on elected bodies and persons who eventually face election for retention (e.g., some judges) are included.

Thirty-four black elected officials who hold two offices at once were identified this year. One BEO in Mississippi holds three offices simultaneously. All offices held by such persons are listed, with an asterisk (*) placed beside each entry. However, multi-office holders are counted only once in the total number of BEOs.

Some individuals are identified as officers of elective bodies on which they serve. For example, many elected school board members are identified as president, vice-president, secretary, or treasurer of their particular board, despite the fact that they were not elected by voters in this capacity. In all cases where elected officials are identified as officers of elective bodies, the expiration date provided applies to their elective position.

Data Collection Data for the Roster were collected through questionnaires mailed to all black elected officials listed in the Joint Center's computer data base, through telephone contacts with these individuals or the government or public bodies on which they serve, and through a national newspaper clipping service.

Two mailings of the questionnaire were made. Both questionnaires requested updated information on the BEO, including party affiliation and term of office, and asked for any information that could be provided on newly elected officials or those not listed in the current volume of the Roster. This Roster contains the names of black elected officials sworn into office prior to January 31, 1985.

Roster entries with terms of office that ended during the period February 1984 through January 1985 were contacted by phone to ascertain whether those public officials were still holding elective office or whether new BEOs were serving in that capacity.

The 1984 Roster state pages were mailed to all secretaries of state or state election offices as well as to chief state school officers for review and approval or correction.

Total population and total voting-age population figures detailed on each state page are 1984 estimates released by the U.S. Bureau of the Census. Black population and black voting-age population figures are estimates computed by the Joint Center on the basis of data obtained from both the 1970 and the 1980 U.S. Census.

403 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Alabama is 3,990,000; the black population is 1,011,864, or 25 percent of the total; total voting age population is 2,875,000; and the black voting age population is 658,000. The total number of registered voters is 2,173,500; the number of black registered voters is 470,000.

FEDERAL: Alabama has 7 congressional districts. Blacks constitute a substantial percentage of the populations of the First District (Mobile), 28 percent; the Second District (Montgomery), 27 percent; the Third District (Anniston), 25 percent; the Sixth District (Birmingham), 31 percent; and the Seventh District (Tuscaloosa), 30 percent.

STATE: The Alabama legislature convenes in Montgomery. The 35 members of the Senate and the 105 members of the House of Representatives are all elected from single-member districts. Senators and representatives serve 4-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 67 counties in Alabama and 272 members of county governing bodies; counties are governed by commissions consisting of 3 to 7 members. Most commissioners are elected for 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are a total of 428 municipal governments in Alabama and 2,065 governing board members. A minimum population of 75 is usually required for incorporation. Elections for municipal officers are held every 4 years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Alabama, like most states, has a hierarchy of courts consisting of a supreme court, intermediate appellate courts, trial courts of general jurisdiction, and district and municipal courts. The appellate court system consists of the court of civil appeals and the court of criminal appeals. There are 9 supreme court judges, 3 civil appeals court judges, and 5 criminal appeals court judges. The trial court system consists of circuit, district, and municipal courts. There are 39 circuit courts and 123 circuit court judges, and 67 district courts and 91 district court judges. There are approximately 278 municipal courts and 68 probate courts. All judges except municipal court judges are elected to serve 6-year terms. Municipal court judges serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 130 school districts in Alabama—67 county school systems and 63 city school systems. All are administratively and fiscally independent. There are 391 elected school officials. City school boards ordinarily consist of 5 members appointed by the city council or commission for staggered 5-year terms. Most county school boards have 5 members elected at large for 6-year terms. County school board members are elected during the general election of state and county officers.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: Alabama has 390 special districts or authorities. None of the 1,636 special district board members is elected.

ALASKA

4 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Alaska is 500,000; the black population is 18,000, or 4 percent of the total; total voting age population is 345,000; and the black voting age population is 11,400. The total number of registered voters is 243,000.

FEDERAL: The entire state of Alaska constitutes one congressional district, which is 3 percent black.

STATE: The Alaska legislature is composed of 20 members of the Senate, elected from 14 districts, and 40 members of the House of Representatives, elected from 27 districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Juneau.

COUNTY: Alaska has 8 borough governments. Seven are administered by borough assembies, which perform functions similar to those of county governments in other states. All areas that lie outside of organized boroughs or city-borough governments constitute a single unorganized borough, which is administered by the state legislature. Depending upon the population size of a borough, between 5 and 11 assembly members serve on a governing board. Most assembly members are elected by district and serve 3-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 142 city governments in Alaska and 699 governing board members. Three city-borough governments—Anchorage, Juneau, and Sitka—are classified as municipalities. Most members of municipal governing bodies serve 3- to 4-year terms.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 64 courts in Alaska and 102 judicial officials—42 judges and 60 magistrates. There are 5 supreme court judges and 21 superior court judges, serving 10- and 6-year terms, respectively. Initially, judges are appointed by the governor to serve a term upon recommendation of the Alaska Judicial Council. After judges' terms expire, they may run for election. No law enforcement officials are elected in Alaska.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: The Alaska Board of Education governs the educational system. Members of the state board are appointed by the governor and approved by the legislature. Alaska has 55 school districts, each of which has a locally elected board of 5 to 11 members, who serve staggered 3-year terms. School board elections are held every October. In addition, each of the 23 districts in the unorganized borough may have an optional advisory committee. These advisory groups may be appointed or elected within the borough.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: Alaska has 6 special districts.

ARIZONA

12 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Arizona is 3,053,000; the black population is 83,041, or 3 percent of the total; total voting age population is 2,200,000; and the black voting age population is 59,729. The total number of registered voters is 1,386,000.

FEDERAL: Arizona has 5 congressional districts. The Second District (Phoenix-Yuma) has the largest percentage of black residents, 5 percent.

STATE: The Arizona legislature convenes in Phoenix. The 30 members of the Senate are elected from single-member districts and the 60 members of the House of Representatives are elected from 30 districts. Senators and representatives serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: The 15 counties in Arizona are governed by 55 supervisors, serving on county boards. Each board has either 3 or 5 members, who are elected by district and serve 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 79 municipalities and 418 members of governing boards. The minimum population requirement for incorporation is 1,500. Most municipalities hold elections every 2 years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 176 courts in Arizona and approximately 304 judgeships. There are 5 supreme court justices, 18 appeals court judges and 95 superior court judges. Supreme court justices and court of appeals judges are elected in nonpartisan races for 6-year terms. Judges for courts of general and limited jurisdiction are elected for 4-year terms. Other judges are selected as mandated by local charters. Elected sheriffs and constables serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 226 school districts in Arizona. Public schools are administratively and fiscally independent, with the exception of accommodation schools, which provide education in sparsely populated areas and are under the jurisdiction of county school superintendents. Local school boards have 3 or 5 members, depending on the type of district. Board members are elected for 4-year terms. School board elections are held on general election days. Nine community college districts come under the authority of the state Board of Directors for Community Colleges. Three state universities are administered by a Board of Regents.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 292 special districts or authorities. Board members are usually elected.

ARKANSAS
315 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Arkansas is 2,349,000; the black population is 364,095, or 16 percent of the total; total voting age population is 1,694,000; and the black voting age population is 230,000. The total number of registered voters is 1,192,600; the number of black registered voters is 164,000.

FEDERAL: Arkansas has 4 congressional districts. The Fourth District (Pine Bluff) has the largest percentage of black residents, 25 percent. The First District (Jonesboro) is 16 percent black, and the Second District (Little Rock) is 15 percent black.

STATE: The Arkansas General Assembly, which convenes in Little Rock, consists of 35 members of the Senate, elected from single-member districts, and 100 members of the House of Representatives, elected from 100 districts. Senators serve 4 year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: The 75 counties in Arkansas are served by 767 governing board members, known as justices of the peace, who sit on quorum or levying courts in each county. The courts vary in size from 9 to 15 members, depending on the population of the county. All members of the quorum courts are elected from single-member districts for 2-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 482 cities and towns, and 2,607 municipal governing board members in Arkansas. Most municipalities hold elections every 2 years, in even-numbered years. There is no minimum population requirement for incorporation.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 413 courts and approximately 303 judgeships in Arkansas. The 7 supreme court and 6 appeals court judges serve 8-year terms. The 33 chancery and 30 circuit court judges serve 6- and 4-year terms, respectively. All other judges are elected for 2-year terms. There are 75 elected sheriffs and coroners, who serve 2-year terms. Constables, who are elected from townships, also serve 2-year terms. Marshals are authorized for all cities with at least 500 residents.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: The state's 341 school districts are administratively and fiscally independent units of government under the direction of locally elected boards. The boards vary in size from 5 to 8 members. The 1,919 school board members in the state serve staggered terms of either 3, 4, or 5 years, with the length of term determined by the size of the board. Elections are held annually on the second Tuesday in March.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are approximately 505 special districts in Arkansas, which perform a wide variety of services. Most special districts perform a single function, such as conservation, mosquito abatement, fire protection, or water distribution.

CALIFORNIA

287 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of California is 25,662,000; the black population is 2,027,298, or 8 percent of the total; total voting age population is 19,063,000; and the black voting age population is 1,430,000. The total number of registered voters is 11,724,000; the number of black registered voters is 941,000.

FEDERAL: California has 45 congressional districts. The districts with the largest percentages of black residents are the Twenty-ninth (Los Angeles-Downey), 51 percent black; the Twenty-eighth (Los Angeles-Inglewood), 37 percent; the Thirty-first (Compton-Carson), 31 percent; and the Eighth (Oakland-Berkeley), 24 percent. Four other districts have black populations of at least 10 percent.

STATE: The California legislature convenes in Sacramento. The 40 members of the Senate and the 80 members of the Assembly are all elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; assembly members serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: All of California's 58 counties are governed by 5-member boards of supervisors elected by district to 4-year terms, except the city-county of San Francisco, which has an 11-member board of supervisors.

MUNICIPAL: California's 441 municipalities are governed by about 1,884 board members, all elected in nonpartisan elections. Municipalities are designated as cities or towns depending on the size of their populations. The city-county of San Francisco has a consolidated government. Most elections are held every 2 years, in even-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 233 courts and 1,383 judgeships in California. Supreme court and court of appeals judges are initially appointed by the governor and confirmed by the Commission on Judicial Appointments. The appointees serve until the earliest gubernatorial election. They are then subject to a nonpartisan retention election for a 12-year term. The 7 supreme court judges and 77 appeals court judges serve 12-year terms. The 687 superior court judges serve 6-year terms. Municipal court judges and justices of the peace are elected on nonpartisan ballots. There are 58 elected sheriffs and 51 elected coroners. Seven county coroners are appointed. Sheriffs and coroners serve 4-year terms. Constables, elected by justice-of-the-peace district, serve 6-year terms. There are also 3 elected commissioners for each police protection district.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 1,029 school districts with approximately 5,300 school board members. All of these officials are elected to 4-year terms of office.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 2,506 special districts and authorities.

COLORADO

14 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Colorado is 3,178,000; the black population is 117,586, or 4 percent of the total; total voting age population is 2,365,000; and the black voting age population is 80,400. The total number of registered voters is 1,582,000; the number of black registered voters is 46,300.

FEDERAL: Colorado has 6 congressional districts. The First District (Denver) has the largest percentage of black residents, 11 percent.

STATE: The Colorado General Assembly comprises 35 seats in the Senate and 65 seats in the House of Representatives; all members are elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Denver.

COUNTY: The 63 counties in Colorado are governed by 192 commissioners, who serve 4-year terms. Most of the counties elect commissioners at large; however, El Paso County elects commissioners by district, and Weld and Pitken counties, which are home-rule counties, elect commissioners under their respective charters. The city-county of Denver, a consolidated governmental unit which is classified as a municipality, has a 5-member appointed commission.

MUNICIPAL: There are 271 towns and cities in Colorado. Most towns are governed by a 6-member board of trustees. City councils serve as the governing bodies for cities The number of board officials in most cities varies according to the number of wards in the city. Two members are elected from each ward. The city-county of Denver is considered a municipality but also functions as a county. Most officials serve 2-year terms. Most elections are held every odd-numbered year, in November, except in Denver, which holds its elections in May.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Colorado has 22 judicial districts, 220 courts, and approximately 429 judgeships. There are 7 supreme court judges, 10 appeals court judges, and 109 district court judges. Judges are appointed to 2-year terms by the governor. After judges' 2-year terms expire they may run for election for full terms of 4, 6, or 10 years. Municipal court judges are appointed by the municipal governing body; they may serve on a part-time basis. There are 63 sheriffs and coroners, who serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: The 177 school districts in Colorado are independently governed by elected school boards. Total school board membership is approximately 985.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are at least 735 municipal service special districts in Colorado.

CONNECTICUT
67 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Connecticut is 3,154,000; the black population is 227,088, or 7 percent of the total; the total voting age population is 2,404,000; and the black voting age population is 149,048. The total number of registered voters is 1,733,000; the number of black registered voters is 87,000.

FEDERAL: Connecticut has 6 congressional districts. Blacks make up 10 percent of the First District (Hartford), 9 percent of the Third District (New Haven), and 9 percent of the Fourth District (Stamford-Bridgeport).

STATE: The Connecticut General Assembly comprises 36 seats in the Senate and 151 seats in the House of Representatives. All members of the House and the Senate are elected from single-member districts. They serve 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Hartford.

COUNTY: Although county boundaries are retained for election and judicial purposes, there are no organized county governments.

MUNICIPAL: The 200 municipalities in Connecticut include 169 townships, 11 boroughs, and 20 cities. Three to 5 selectmen are elected at large to govern each town. Boards of aldermen or councilmen govern the cities and boroughs. Most municipal officials serve 2-year terms. Elections are held in odd-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Connecticut has 187 courts and 274 judgeships. There are 6 supreme court judges, 131 superior court judges, and 6 appellate court judges. Judges of the supreme and superior courts are appointed by the General Assembly upon nomination by the governor and serve 8-year terms. Probate judges are elected on partisan ballots and serve 4-year terms. There are 8 elected sheriffs, who serve 4-year terms. There are 1 to 7 elected constables per township serving 1- or 2-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: Most of the 165 school districts are administratively and fiscally independent. There are 1,312 school board members, who serve 2- or 4-year terms. Elections are held the first Tuesday in November of every odd-numbered year.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 281 special districts and authorities in Connecticut. Board members are either elected or appointed, depending upon the district or authority.

DELAWARE
19 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Delaware is 613,000; the black population is 103,100 or 17 percent of the total; total voting age population is 457,000, and the black voting age population is 67,200. The total number of registered voters is 290,000.

FEDERAL: The state of Delaware constitutes one congressional district, which is 14 percent black.

STATE: Delaware's General Assembly convenes in Dover. There are 21 seats in the Senate and 41 seats in the House of Representatives: all members are elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 3 counties in Delaware and 19 governing board members, who serve 2- or 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 56 incorporated cities and towns in Delaware, all chartered by the state legislature. There are 334 members of governing boards.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 91 judgeships in Delaware. Five judges serve on the supreme court, 11 on the superior court, 4 on the court of chancery, 5 on the court of common pleas, 13 on the family court, 3 on the municipal court in Wilmington, and 54 on the justice-of-the-peace courts. All judges are appointed by the governor and confirmed by the state Senate. With the exception of justices of the peace, all judges serve 12-year terms. Sheriffs are elected to 2-year terms in each county except New Castle, where sheriffs are elected to 4-year terms. Many of the municipalities have alderman courts with judges appointed by the city or town council. The state Department of Justice is administered by the attorney general and is the top law enforcement agency in Delaware.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 19 local school districts, governed by 119 school board members. Sixteen school boards have elected officials, who serve 5-year terms. The governor appoints 3 board members for each vocational-technical school district.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: Delaware has a total of 139 special districts and authorities. Board members of the park districts in New Castle County are the state's only elected special district officers.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
251 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of the District of Columbia is 623,000; the black population is 435,103, or 70 percent of the total; total voting age population is 482,000; and the black voting age population is 321,000. The total number of registered voters is 291,000; the number of black registered voters is 178,000.

FEDERAL: The District of Columbia constitutes one congressional district, which is 66 percent black and elects one nonvoting delegate to the House of Representatives.

MUNICIPAL: The District of Columbia is classified as a municipality; however, it also performs state and county functions. There is an elected city council, with 5 members and a chairperson elected at large. An additional 8 members are elected from wards. Council elections are held in even-numbered years, and members serve 4-year terms. An elected mayor also serves a 4-year term. Members of advisory neighborhood commissions are elected from single-member districts and serve the city government in an advisory capacity.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 2 courts and 53 judgeships in the District of Columbia. Judges who serve on the court of appeals (9) and the superior court (44) are nominated by the president of the United States and approved by the U.S. Senate; they serve 15-year terms. One judge in each court is designated by the president of the United States to serve as chief judge for a term of 4 years or until a successor is appointed.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: The District of Columbia has 190 schools and an 11-member board of education, which is elected on a nonpartisan basis. There is one school district in Washington, D.C. The board is classified as an agency of the municipal government rather than as an independent governing body. Three board members are elected at large, and the others are elected from wards. Board members serve 4-year terms. Elections are held the first Tuesday in November of every odd-numbered year.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There is 1 independent special district. Board members are appointed.

FLORIDA
178 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Florida is 10,976,000; the black population is 1,448,832, or 13 percent of the total; total voting age population is 8,529,000; and the black voting age population is 921,000. The total number of registered voters is 5,339,000; the number of black registered voters is 528,000.

FEDERAL: Florida has 19 congressional districts. Twelve districts are at least 10 percent black. The Third District (Jacksonville) is 25 percent black. Both the Second (Tallahassee) and Seventeenth (North Miami) districts are 22 percent black.

STATE: The Florida legislature comprises 40 members of the Senate and 120 members of the House of Representatives, each elected from a single district. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Tallahassee.

COUNTY: There are 67 counties and 359 governing board members. Commissioners are elected by district except in Volusia County, where councilmembers are elected at large, and in Duval County, where councilmembers are elected at large and by district. Most county boards have 5 members, who serve 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: Florida has 391 municipalities, which include cities, towns, and villages, and approximately 2,000 governing board members. Municipalities are established by special acts of the state legislature or by general law. Under general law, the minimum population for incorporation is 1,500 persons. The city of Jacksonville and the county of Duval have consolidated to form a municipal government. There is no uniform schedule for municipal elections.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: The 7 supreme court judges, 46 judges of district courts, and 348 circuit court judges are elected on nonpartisan ballots for 6-year terms. County judges are elected for 4-year terms. As of January 3, 1977, all municipal courts were abolished. There are approximately 92 courts, with 608 judges. Florida has 67 elected sheriffs, who serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 67 local school districts in Florida, and 28 community college districts. A total of 350 elected school board members govern the school districts.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: A total of 417 special districts and authorities provide a variety of services including erosion prevention, navigation, library, hospital, and lighting services.

GEORGIA
417 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Georgia is 5,837,000; the black population is 1,587,664, or 27 percent of the total; total voting age population is 4,204,000; and the black voting age population is 1,047,000. The total number of registered voters is 2,653,000; the number of black registered voters is 607,000.

FEDERAL: Georgia has 10 congressional districts. The Fifth District (Atlanta) is 60 percent black. Four other districts have black populations of at least 30 percent: the First District (Savannah), 30 percent; the Second District (Albany), 30 percent; the Third District (Columbus), 31 percent; and the Eighth District (Macon), 32 percent. The Tenth District (Augusta) has a black population of 23 percent.

STATE: The General Assembly comprises 56 seats in the Senate, all filled from single-member districts, and 180 seats in the House of Representatives, all filled from 156 districts. Members of the General Assembly serve 2-year terms and convene in Atlanta.

COUNTY: There are 159 counties in Georgia and 630 county commissioners. Governing board members are elected either by district or at large as determined by the county, and most serve 4-year terms. Governing boards usually consist of 3 to 5 members.

MUNICIPAL: The 556 municipalities in Georgia are classified as towns and cities. There are 2,780 governing board members. A minimum population of 200 is required for municipal incorporation. The city of Columbus and the county of Muscogee are consolidated to form one municipality. There is no uniform schedule for municipal elections.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are approximately 865 full-time judgeship positions in Georgia. Most of the judges are elected on a nonpartisan ballot. The 7 supreme court and 9 court of appeals judges serve 6-year terms. The 127 superior court judges serve 4-year terms. There is a probate court in each county, with a probate judge who serves a 4-year term. Some magistrates and judges of other county and municipal courts are appointed. There are 159 sheriffs, 158 coroners, and 424 magistrates.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 187 districts governed by 920 school board members; 758 board members are elected to serve 4-year terms. There are 28 independent school systems and 33 universities.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 390 special districts and authorities.

HAWAII

1 Black Elected Official

POPULATION: The total population of Hawaii is 1,039,000; the black population is 22,026, or 2 percent of the total; total voting age population is 755,000; and the black voting age population is 16,000. The total number of registered voters is 447,000.

FEDERAL: Hawaii has 2 congressional districts. Blacks comprise 2 percent of the population of District Two (Oahu-Outer Islands) and 1 percent of District One (Honolulu).

STATE: There are 25 seats in the Senate; members are elected from 25 districts. The House of Representatives has 51 seats; members are elected from 51 districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Honolulu.

COUNTY: There are 3 counties with organized county governments: Hawaii, Kauai, and Maui. Kalawao County includes the Kalaupapa Settlement and is governed by the state Department of Health. Oahu County, known as the city-county of Honolulu, is classified as a municipality. There are 34 members of county governing bodies (9 councilmembers each from Honolulu, Hawaii, and Maui counties, and 7 from Kauai County), who serve either 2- or 4-year terms, depending upon the county.

MUNICIPAL: The combined city-county of Honolulu is Hawaii's only organized municipality. There are 9 members on the city council. Each member is elected from a separate city council district and serves a 4-year term. In 1980, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs was established to oversee the utilization of and proceeds from lands held in public trust for the Hawaiian people. The office also advocates better conditions for native Hawaiians. A special election is held every 2 years to elect the 9 members of the Board of Trustees of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. This election is restricted to registered voters of Hawaiian ancestry.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Hawaii has 61 judicial positions. Five supreme court, 24 circuit court, and 3 intermediate appellate court judges are appointed by the governor for 10-year terms. There are 22 district court judges and 7 district family court judges, who are appointed to 6-year terms by the chief judge of the state supreme court. The prosecuting attorneys of the counties of Hawaii and Kauai and the city-county of Honolulu are the only elected law enforcement officials of the state.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: All educational services are provided by the state government. There is one Board of Education made up of 13 members elected from 2 school board districts—10 members elected at large from the First School Board District (city-county of Honolulu), and 3 members elected at large from the Second School Board District (counties of Hawaii, Maui, and Kauai).

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 15 special districts; only soil and water conservation districts count as governments, however.

IDAHO
0 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Idaho is 1,001,000; the black population is 3,003, or 0.3 percent of the total; total voting age population is 681,000; and the black voting age population is 1,362. The total number of registered voters is 503,000.

FEDERAL: Idaho has 2 congressional districts. Both districts have black populations of less than 1 percent.

STATE: The Idaho legislature comprises 42 seats in the Senate, whose members are elected from 33 districts, and 84 seats in the House of Representatives, whose members are elected from 33 districts. Members of the legislature, which convenes in Boise, serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 44 counties in Idaho and 132 county commissioners, all of whom are elected at large. All boards of commissioners have 3 members. One member serves a 4-year term, and the other 2 members serve 2-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: The 198 municipalities in Idaho are all classified as cities, although the terms town and village are used occasionally. A total of 871 councilmembers govern the cities. Each council consists of 4 or 6 members, who serve 2-year terms. Elections are held in odd-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 45 courts and 32 judgeships in Idaho. The 5 supreme court and 31 district court judges are elected in nonpartisan elections for 6- and 4-year terms, respectively. Three intermediate appellate court judges serve 6-year terms. District court magistrates are appointed by a commission and serve 4-year terms. After initial appointment, the magistrates stand for election. There are 44 elected sheriffs and coroners, serving 4- and 2-year terms, respectively. Precinct committee members are elected from each precinct and serve 2-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 116 school districts in Idaho and 576 elected board members.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 659 special districts or authorities in Idaho.

ILLINOIS
426 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Illinois is 11,511,000; the black population is 1,779,600, or 15 percent of the total; total voting age population is 8,410,000; and the black voting age population is 1,144,000. The total number of registered voters is 6,282,000; the number of black registered voters is 912,000.

FEDERAL: Illinois has 22 congressional districts. The First and Second districts (South Side Chicago and Lake Calumet Chicago) have the largest black populations, 90 and 66 percent, respectively. Another district with a sizable black population, the Seventh District (West Side Chicago), has a 60 percent black population.

STATE: The General Assembly comprises 59 senators and 118 representatives, elected from single-member districts. Senate members serve staggered terms of 2 or 4 years. House members serve 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Springfield.

COUNTY: There are 102 counties and approximately 1,667 elected board members. Eighty-five counties have organized township governments, and the others are governed by boards of commissioners. The membership of county governing bodies ranges from 3 to 29 officials. Township board members serve 4 years; commission members serve 3 years. Special county provisions require that 10 of the 16 commissioners serving Cook County come from Chicago.

MUNICIPAL: There are 1,279 municipalities and 8,050 governing board members in Illinois. In addition, there are 1,434 townships, each of which is administered by a supervisor and a board of trustees. Elections are usually held every 2 years, in odd-numbered years. The minimum population required for municipal incorporation is 2,500 persons living within 4 square miles. The minimum for village incorporation is 200 persons living within 2 square miles.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 7 supreme court judges, 34 judges serving 5 appellate court districts, and 386 judges and 366 associate judges serving 22 judicial circuits. Judges of the supreme and appellate courts are elected for 10-year terms, circuit court judges for 6-year terms, and associate judges of the circuit court for 4-year terms. Judges are first elected to office in partisan elections. Before their terms of office expire, supreme court, appellate court, and circuit court judges who have been elected to office may make declaration to succeed themselves. Retention in office for another term requires an affirmative vote of three-fifths of the electors voting on the question. A separate ballot without party designation is constitutionally required. Illinois has 102 sheriffs and 102 coroners, who serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 997 school districts. All are independent administratively and fiscally. With the exception of Chicago, all school districts are governed by 6,800 school board members elected to 4-year terms. In Chicago, the school board members are appointed by the mayor and serve 5-year terms.

INDIANA

70 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Indiana is 5,498,000; the black population is 428,900, or 8 percent of the total; total voting age population is 3,969,000; and the black voting age population is 282,000. The total number of registered voters is 2,766,000; the number of black registered voters is 210,000.

FEDERAL: Indiana has 10 congressional districts. The First District (Gary) is 22 percent black. The Tenth District (Indianapolis) is 25 percent black.

STATE: The Indiana legislature has 50 seats in the Senate; members are elected from single-member districts. The 100 members of the House of Representatives are elected from 77 districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Indianapolis.

COUNTY: There are 92 counties and 276 county commissioners. County commissioners have 3 members, who serve 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 566 municipalities, including 115 cities and 451 towns, governed by 2,270 councilmembers. In addition, there are 1,008 civil townships, each of which is administered by a township trustee and an advisory board. Municipal elections are held every 4 years, in odd-numbered years. The minimum requirement for incorporation is 50 property owners.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 336 courts and 354 judgeships in Indiana. Serving in elective office are 5 supreme court judges, 12 appellate court judges, 89 circuit court judges, 104 superior court judges, 57 county court judges, and 102 other court judges. Supreme and appellate court judges are first appointed by the governor to serve 2-year terms. Thereafter, they run for election on a retention ballot to serve 10-year terms. Circuit and superior court judges serve 6-year terms, and county court judges serve 4-year terms. Additionally, each county elects one sheriff and one coroner, to serve 4-year terms. Only Marion County (Indianapolis) elects constables. They serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 304 school districts in Indiana and 1,683 school board members. Board members usually serve 4-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 897 special districts, administered by 431 elected board members. Other board members are appointed.

IOWA

9 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Iowa is 2,910,000; the black population is 43,068, or 1 percent of the total; total voting age population is 2,119,000; and the black voting age population is 25,428. The total number of registered voters is 1,604,000.

FEDERAL: Iowa has 6 congressional districts. The Fourth District (Des Moines) contains the largest percentage of black residents, 3 percent.

STATE: The Iowa General Assembly comprises 50 seats in the Senate and 100 seats in the House of Representatives; each member of the General Assembly is elected from a single-member district. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Des Moines.

COUNTY: There are 99 counties and 365 elected county supervisors in Iowa. Supervisors serve either 2- or 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 956 municipalities in Iowa governed by 4,857 elected councilmembers. Most councilmembers serve 4-year terms. There is no minimum population requirement for incorporation.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Iowa has 153 judges serving in 99 courts. There are 9 judges of the supreme court, serving 8-year terms; 6 judges of the appeals court, serving 6-year terms; 99 judges and 39 associate judges of the district courts, serving 4-year terms. With the exception of district associate judges, all judges are nominated by a judicial nominating commission and appointed by the governor to serve until the next general election, usually within 1 to 2 years. At the end of their term, judges must run for retention. There are also 165 magistrates and 9 senior judges, serving in lower courts. One sheriff is elected for each county.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: The 438 public school districts are independent administratively and fiscally. Approximately 2,358 elected members serve on the local school boards. Fifteen area school systems provide 2-year community colleges and vocational education. These area school systems, which are independent administratively and fiscally, have 124 elected board members.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: The 334 special districts and authorities in Iowa are administered by 1,148 elected board members.

KANSAS
28 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Kansas is 2,438,000; the black population is 135,065, or 5 percent of the total; total voting age population is 1,794,000; and the black voting age population is 87,900. The total number of registered voters is 1,254,000; the number of black registered voters is 48,000.

FEDERAL: Kansas has 5 congressional districts. The Third District (Kansas City), with a black population of 8 percent, has the largest percentage of black residents. It is followed by the Second District (Topeka), which is 7 percent black, and the Fourth District (Wichita), with a black population of 6 percent.

STATE: The Kansas legislature convenes in Topeka. There are 40 seats in the Senate and 125 seats in the House of Representatives. Members of the Senate and House are elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 105 counties; the 319 governing board members are elected by district for 4-year terms. All board members serve on boards of commissioners, generally composed of 3 members. Two counties (Coffey and Johnson) have 5-member boards of commissioners.

MUNICIPAL: There are 627 municipalities and 3,128 governing body members. Forms of government vary widely among municipalities. However, most governing body members serve 2- or 4-year terms. Kansas also has 1,367 townships, but they have very limited functions. Most duties are performed by the counties. The principal administrators of the townships are trustees, who serve 4-year terms. A minimum population of 300 is required for municipal incorporation.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: In 1977, Kansas implemented a court unification plan. The state judiciary is now composed of the supreme court (with 1 chief judge and 6 other judges), the court of appeals, and 31 judicial court districts. There are approximately 210 judgeships in the district courts. Supreme and appellate court judges are initially appointed by the governor, for 6- and 4-year terms, respectively. At the end of their terms, judges must be retained by the voters. District court judges are elected for 4-year terms. One sheriff is authorized for each county, but Riley County has combined city and county law enforcement and elects no sheriff. One marshall is authorized for each city with 14,999 inhabitants or less. There are 29 coroners.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: In Kansas, 303 school districts are governed by about 2,121 elected school board members. The school districts are administratively and financially independent. Board members usually serve 4-year terms. There are 19 community college service areas. School board elections are held the first Tuesday in April.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 1,370 special districts governed by 6,097 board members, who serve 1- to 4-year terms.

KENTUCKY

46 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Kentucky is 3,723,000; the black population is 262,843, or 7 percent of the total; total voting age population is 2,700,000; and the black voting age population is 181,000. The total number of registered voters is 1,890,000; the number of black registered voters is 157,000.

FEDERAL: Kentucky has 7 congressional districts. The Third District (Louisville) has the largest percentage of black residents, 18 percent.

STATE: The Kentucky General Assembly comprises 38 seats in the Senate and 100 seats in the House of Representatives. All members of the General Assembly are elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The Kentucky General Assembly convenes in Frankfort.

COUNTY: There are 119 counties in Kentucky. The city-county of Fayette is counted as a municipality. Of the 731 board members that govern the counties, 120 are elected at large, 48 are elected at large with district residence requirements, and 563 are elected by district. Fiscal courts, as the boards are called, usually have 4 to 9 members, who serve 4-year terms. The members of the fiscal courts include magistrates and the county judge-executive.

MUNICIPAL: There are 425 municipalities, which include towns and 6 classes of cities, categorized by size. Over 3,000 board members serve on governing bodies for 2 or 4 years. Communities must have 125 inhabitants to incorporate.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: The supreme court, court of appeals, district court, and circuit courts make up the court of justice. The 7 supreme court judges and the 14 judges from the court of appeals are elected from 7 appellate districts. There are 93 circuit court judges elected from 56 judicial circuits. Appellate and circuit court judges serve 8-year terms. There are 124 district court judges elected from 57 judicial districts to serve 4-year terms. Police judges are elected in first-, second-, and third-class cities. Beginning in January 1978, all lower courts and the judicial functions of county judges were abolished. The lower courts were replaced by district courts, with 113 judges, elected from 57 judicial districts, serving 4-year terms. There are 120 elected sheriffs and coroners, serving 4-year terms. Constables are elected in counties with a population of 250,000 or more. Counties with fewer than 250,000 inhabitants elect justices of the peace (magistrates), who also serve on the fiscal court. One constable is authorized for each justice-of-the-peace district.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 180 school districts, including 120 county and 60 city school districts. All members of the school boards are elected. The 915 school board members serve 4-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: Kentucky has 517 special districts governed by 1,047 board members.

LOUISIANA

488 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Louisiana is 4,462,000; the black population is 1,304,689, or 29 percent of the total; total voting age population is 3,147,000; and the black voting age population is 837,000. The total number of registered voters is 2,304,000; the number of black registered voters is 626,000.

FEDERAL: Louisiana has 8 congressional districts. Five districts have black populations that exceed 20 percent. The two districts with the largest black populations are the Second District (New Orleans-Jefferson), 52 percent, and the Eighth District (Alexandria), 36 percent.

STATE: The Louisiana legislature, which convenes in Baton Rouge, comprises 39 seats in the Senate and 105 seats in the House of Representatives. All members of the House and Senate are elected from single-member districts. Senators and representatives serve 4-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 64 parishes (counties) in Louisiana and about 654 governing body members. In all except 13 parishes, police juries serve as the governing body. Police jury members are elected from districts or wards within the parishes, and serve 4-year terms. The parishes of Caddo, Iberia, Jefferson, Lafourche, Plaquemines, St. Charles, St. James, St. John the Baptist, and St. Mary are governed by councils or commissions. The City of New Orleans and the parish of Orleans are governed jointly by a city council. The city of Baton Rouge and the parish of East Baton Rouge are governed jointly by the metro council. The city of Houma and the parish of Terrebonne are governed jointly by the parish council.

MUNICIPAL: There are 301 municipalities and 1,833 governing board members in Louisiana. The minimum population requirement for incorporation is 300 in most places. Depending on size, incorporated communities are classified as cities, towns, or villages. Most municipalities hold elections every 4 years, in even-numbered years. Some municipalities are governed by a charter, drawn up by the citizens and approved by the voters.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: The 305 judges in Louisiana are elected in non-partisan elections, and terms of office vary among the 98 courts. The 7 supreme court judges and 48 appeals court judges serve 10-year terms. The 240 district court judges serve 6-year terms. The supreme court is the highest court followed by the circuit court of appeals, various district courts, juvenile and family courts, and municipal courts. Each of the 64 parishes elects one sheriff and one coroner, except Orleans Parish, which elects both a civil and criminal sheriff. Sheriffs and coroners serve for 4 years.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 66 school districts administered by 66 public school boards. The 683 school board members are elected to staggered 4- or 6-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: Louisiana has 260 independent special districts. Most special district board members are appointed.

MAINE

3 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Maine is 1,156,000; the black population is 3,468, or 0.3 percent of the total; total voting age population is 848,000; and the black voting age population is 1,696. The total number of registered voters is 708,080.

FEDERAL: Maine has 2 congressional districts. The black population of each district is less than 1 percent.

STATE: The state Senate has 35 seats; members are elected from single-member districts. The House has 151 seats; members are elected from 151 districts. Senators and representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Augusta.

COUNTY: There are 16 counties in Maine and 48 governing board members. In 15 counties, board members are elected by district. At-large elections are held in the other county. Three county commissioners, elected for 4-year terms, serve each county.

MUNICIPAL: There are 22 governments classified as cities, 436 as townships, and 39 as plantations. Towns are governed by boards of selectmen, and plantations are governed by boards of assessors. Most municipalities hold annual elections.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 7 supreme court judges, 14 superior court judges, 25 district court judges, and 16 probate judges. All are appointed to 7-year terms by the governor, except probate judges, who serve 4-year terms. Sixteen sheriffs are elected for 2-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 98 school district governments and 196 dependent public school systems. Several types of school boards serve the school systems in Maine. These include 194 municipal boards, 75 school administrative district boards, 13 community school district boards, and 3 native American reservation boards. The 1,701 school board members in the state are elected for 3-year terms on a rotating basis.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 195 special districts in Maine served by 392 elected board members.

MARYLAND

108 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Maryland is 4,349,000; the black population is 1,072,463, or 25 percent of the total; total voting age population is 3,259,000; and the black voting age population is 733,000. The total number of registered voters is 2,226,000; the number of black registered voters is 476,000.

FEDERAL: Maryland has 8 congressional districts. The district with the largest percentage of black residents is the Seventh District (West Baltimore), which is 70 percent black. Four other districts contain black populations of more than 10 percent: the Fifth District (Prince George's County), 31 percent; the Fourth District (Annapolis), 19 percent; the First District (Chesapeake Bay), 17 percent; and the Third District (East Baltimore), 14 percent.

STATE: The Maryland General Assembly has 47 seats in the Senate; members are elected from single-member districts. There are 141 seats in the House of Delegates; members are elected from 47 districts. All legislators serve 4-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Annapolis.

COUNTY: There are 23 counties in Maryland and 107 governing board members, who serve 4-year terms. County councils exist in 8 home-rule counties, and boards of county commissioners exist in 11 counties. The counties of Kent, Worcester, Caroline, and Allegany are home-rule counties and are also governed by boards of commissioners. Baltimore City is an independent city and is separate from Baltimore County.

MUNICIPAL: Maryland has 154 municipalities and 721 governing body members. Most board members serve 4-year terms.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Most of the 210 judgeship positions are initially filled by gubernatorial appointment. Judges subsequently run for retention on nonpartisan ballots after at least one year of service. District court judges are appointed to 10-year terms, and the 66 orphan's court judges are elected in partisan elections to 4-year terms. Maryland has 73 courts. In addition, registrars of wills, who serve as clerks of the orphan's courts, are elected. There are 24 elected sheriffs.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: School districts in Maryland are not independent administratively and fiscally; they are administered by each of the 23 county boards of education. Only 7 of the 23 school districts in Maryland elect school board members. Each of these districts elects 5 board members to 4- or 5-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: The 264 special districts in Maryland are governed by 579 elected board members.

MASSACHUSETTS

35 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Massachusetts is 5,798,000; the black population is 244,676, or 4 percent of the total; total voting age population is 4,422,000; and the black voting age population is 164,000. The total number of registered voters is 3,078,000; the number of black registered voters is 105,124.

FEDERAL: Massachusetts has 11 congressional districts. The Ninth District (Boston-Taunton), with a black population of 14 percent, has the largest percentage of black residents.

STATE: The Massachusetts General Court convenes in Boston; it comprises 40 seats in the Senate and 160 seats in the House of Representatives. All legislators represent single-member districts and serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 14 counties in Massachusetts. With the exceptions of Nantucket and Suffolk, each county is administered by a 3-member board of commissioners and a county finance board. Commissioners are elected within each county. The finance board is comprised of representatives from all cities and towns within a county. Nantucket and Suffolk lack distinctly organized county governments. The area and governing body of Nantucket are identical to that of Nantucket town. Suffolk County is consolidated with the city of Boston.

MUNICIPAL: Massachusetts has 39 municipal and 312 township governments. There are 450 council members serving on the municipal governing boards and 1,124 selectmen serving on the township boards. Councilmembers generally serve 2-year terms, and selectmen, 1- to 3-year terms. The minimum population requirement for municipal incorporation is 12,000.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Massachusetts has 91 courts. There are 7 supreme court judges, 10 appeals court judges, and 264 trial court judges. Judges are appointed for life or until they reach 70 years of age. One sheriff is elected for each of the 14 counties, and at least one constable is elected for each city and town.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: According to state law, 2 or more towns may establish regional school districts. There are 79 such districts, which are administratively and fiscally independent. Of the 79, 52 of these are Academic Regions and the other 27 are Regional Vocations. The other 357 school systems in Massachusetts are considered agencies of town, city, or county governments. The number of school board members varies from board to board, and there is no uniform term of service.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: Massachusetts has 354 special districts and 1,154 elected board members.

MICHIGAN
314 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Michigan is 9,075,000; the black population is 1,232,385, or 14 percent of the total; total voting age population is 6,530,000; and the black voting age population is 803,000. The total number of registered voters is 4,819,000; the number of black registered voters is 603,000.

FEDERAL: Michigan has 18 congressional districts. The First District (Detroit-Highland Park) is 66 percent black. The Thirteenth District, which contains the inner city of Detroit, is 67 percent black. Other districts with significant black percentages are the Seventh (Flint) and Seventeenth (Detroit-Southfield), 14 and 10 percent black, respectively.

STATE: The Michigan legislature convenes in Lansing; it comprises 38 seats in the Senate and 110 seats in the House of Representatives. All House and Senate members represent single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 83 counties in Michigan. All 852 county commissioners, who serve 2-year terms, are elected by district.

MUNICIPAL: The 532 cities and villages in Michigan comprise its municipalities. In addition, Michigan has 1,245 townships. A total of 3,110 governing board members are elected to serve 2- or 4-year terms. Most elections are held in March or November, of odd-numbered years. The minimum population required for incorporation is 2,000 for a city and 250 for a village.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Michigan has 242 courts and 561 judgeship positions. There are 7 supreme court judges, 18 court of appeals judges, 165 circuit court judges, and 29 recorder's court judges in Detroit. All judges are elected in nonpartisan elections. Most serve 6- to 8-year terms. There are 83 elected sheriffs, 1 authorized for each county. A medical examiner is appointed to serve each county. Four constables are authorized for each township, and 1 constable is authorized for each ward in fourth-class cities.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: All of the 567 local school districts in Michigan are independent administratively and fiscally. There are also 29 community college districts and 13 state supported 4-year colleges and universities. The number of members serving on boards varies, but most boards have 7 members who serve 4-year terms. Elections are usually held annually, in June, or during the odd-year general election.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: Michigan's 184 special districts are governed by 355 elected board members.

MINNESOTA

9 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Minnesota is 4,162,000; the black population is 60,765, or 1 percent of the total; total voting age population is 3,044,000; and the black voting age population is 36,528. The total number of registered voters is 2,612,000.

FEDERAL: Minnesota has 8 congressional districts. The Fifth District (Minneapolis) is 5 percent black and contains over half of the state's black population.

STATE: The Minnesota legislature comprises 67 seats in the Senate and 134 seats in the House of Representatives; all members of the House and Senate represent single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in St. Paul.

COUNTY: There are 87 counties and 441 governing board members, all elected by district. All commissioners are elected for 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 855 municipalities in Minnesota, including 104 home-rule cities and 751 statutory cities. In addition, there are 1,792 townships. The municipalities and townships are governed by 9,040 elected board members, who serve 2- to 4-year terms. Most cities hold annual elections, in November.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 9 supreme court judges, 72 district court judges, 108 county court judges, and 28 municipal court judges. Most serve 6-year terms. One sheriff and one coroner are authorized for each of the 87 counties (one county appoints its coroner). Two constables are authorized for each township. Sheriffs and coroners serve 4-year terms and constables, 2-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: The 434 school districts in Minnesota are independent administratively and fiscally; they are served by 2,800 board members, elected to 3-year terms. Elections are generally held annually, in May.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: The 356 special districts are governed by 618 elected board members.

MISSISSIPPI

521 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Mississippi is 2,598,000; the black population is 897,869, or 35 percent of the total; total voting age population is 1,810,000; and the black voting age population is 557,000. The total number of registered voters is 1,495,000; the number of black registered voters is 477,000.

FEDERAL: Mississippi has 5 congressional districts. Each has a substantial percentage of black residents. The Second and Fourth districts (Mississippi Delta and Jackson) contain the largest percentages of blacks, 53 and 37 percent, respectively. The First District (Tupelo) is 21 percent black, the Third District (Meridian) is 28 percent black, and the Fifth District (Gulfport-Biloxi) is 17 percent black.

STATE: The legislature, which convenes in Jackson, comprises 52 seats in the Senate and 122 seats in the House of Representatives. Senators and representatives serve 4-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 82 counties in Mississippi, each of which is divided into five districts. Supervisors are elected from each district to serve on the county's board of supervisors, and each of the state's 410 supervisors serves a 4-year term.

MUNICIPAL: Mississippi has 293 municipalities and 1,400 governing board members. Municipalities can incorporate as cities, towns, or villages. In order to do so they must have minimum populations of 2,000, 300, and 50, respectively. Elections for municipal officers are generally held in June. Governing board members usually serve 4-year terms.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: The Mississippi judicial system consists of the supreme, chancery, circuit, family, county, municipal, and justice courts. Chancery court judges are authorized as chancellors and justice court judges as justices of the peace. There are approximately 550 judgeships. There are 9 supreme court judges, 38 chancery court judges, and 35 circuit court judges. Supreme court judges are elected to 8-year terms. Justice court judges serve for 4 years. Municipal court judges are appointed and serve at the will of the municipality. Chancery and circuit court judges are elected to 4-year terms. Serving for 4 years each are 82 sheriffs and 82 coroners (1 elected per county), 415 constables (1 elected per supervisor district, except in Hinds County, which has 2 per supervisor district), and municipal marshals, who are elected to the position in the absence of a police force.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 169 school districts in Mississippi, including 68 county unit school districts, 28 consolidated school districts, 52 municipal school districts, 5 special municipal separate school districts, and 16 junior college districts. Approximately 765 elected school board members serve on governing bodies. County unit school board members are elected to 6-year terms. Consolidated school board members are elected at large to 5-year terms. Municipal separate school boards appoint and elect board members.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 315 special districts served by 267 elected board members.

MISSOURI

161 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Missouri is 5,008,000; the black population is 520,832, or 10 percent of the total; total voting age population is 3,682,000; and the black voting age population is 350,000. The total number of registered voters is 2,758,000; the number of black registered voters is 241,000.

FEDERAL: Missouri has 9 congressional districts. The First District, which includes the northern part of St. Louis, is 46 percent black. The Fifth District (Kansas City) is 20 percent black.

STATE: The Missouri General Assembly comprises 34 seats in the Senate and 163 seats in the House of Representatives. All members of the General Assembly are elected from single-member districts. Senators are elected for 4-year terms; representatives for 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Jefferson City.

COUNTY: There are 114 counties and 346 elected governing board members. Most board members are elected by district and serve 2- or 3-year terms. Counties are divided into 4 categories on the basis of their total assessed valuation. Class 1 cities are assessed at $300 million or more, class 2 cities at $70 million to $300 million, class 3 cities at $10 million to $70 million, and class 4 cities at less than $10 million.

MUNICIPAL: Missouri has 934 municipalities and 325 townships. The minimum population requirement for city incorporation is 500 residents. Villages are incorporated municipalities with less than 500 inhabitants. Cities with more than 5,000 residents may adopt charters for their own government and become constitutional charter cities. Other municipalities are divided into 2 classes. At the time of incorporation third-class municipalities must have 3,000 or more residents. Fourth-class municipalities must have 500 to 3,000 residents. First- and second-class city classifications were abolished in 1975. The municipalities are governed by 5,366 elected councilmembers, aldermen, and trustees. All elections are held during the spring. Terms of office vary among municipalities.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: The 531 courts in Missouri are served by 547 judges. There are 7 supreme court judges, 32 court of appeals judges, and 132 circuit court judges. Judges of the surpreme and appellate courts are appointed for 12-year terms. With the exception of circuit court judges in the city of St. Louis and a few counties, all judges are elected on a partisan ballot. In addition, there are 114 elected sheriffs and coroners—one authorized for each county—who serve 4-year terms. One constable is authorized for each magistrate district. One marshal is elected for municipalities with populations of 10,000 to 30,000 in first-class counties, in third-class mayor-council cities, and in fourth-class cities.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: Missouri has 545 school districts. All are independent administratively and fiscally. There are 3,280 school board members, all elected. Boards generally have 6 members, serving 3-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 1,195 special districts and 3,082 elected board members.

MONTANA

0 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Montana is 824,000; the black population is 1,318, or 0.2 percent of the total; total voting age population is 591,000; and the black voting age population is 1,200. The total number of registered voters is 457,000.

FEDERAL: Montana has 2 congressional districts. Each has a black population of less than 1 percent.

STATE: There are 50 seats in the Senate and 100 seats in the House of Representatives. All members of the House and Senate are elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The Montana legislature convenes in Helena.

COUNTY: There are 56 counties in Montana and 168 governing board members. Fifty-two counties operate with traditional 3-member county commissions; members are elected at large, with district residence requirements. One county has a 5-member commission, and one county is administered by a county manager. Two of Montana's counties, Anaconda-Deer Lodge County and Butte-Silver Bow County, have consolidated with cities to form city-county governments.

MUNICIPAL: Montana has 127 municipalities and 638 elected governing board members. The most prevalent form of governments is the mayor-council. The terms of service for councilmembers vary according to jurisdiction.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 7 supreme court judges, elected for 8-year terms, and 32 district court judges, who serve for 6 years. All judges, including municipal and justice-of-the-peace court judges, are elected on a nonpartisan ballot. Vacancies on the supreme and district courts are filled by appointment. Montana has 56 elected sheriffs and coroners, who serve 4-year terms. Two constables are elected for each township.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 551 administratively and fiscally independent school districts and 3 community college school districts, served by approximately 1,500 school board members. All are elected.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 450 special districts served by 684 elected board members.

NEBRASKA
4 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Nebraska is 1,606,000; the black population is 49,786, or 3 percent of the total; total voting age population is 1,163,000; and the black voting age population is 31,401. The total number of registered voters is 829,000.

FEDERAL: Nebraska has 3 congressional districts. The Second District (Omaha) is 7 percent black.

STATE: The Nebraska legislature is the only unicameral state legislative body in the United States. There are 49 seats for 49 legislative districts. All legislators are elected for 4-year terms. The legislature convenes in Lincoln.

COUNTY: There are 93 counties in Nebraska and 407 members of county governing bodies. County governing bodies are usually called boards of commissioners. In counties where there are township governments, governing bodies are called boards of supervisors. Board members generally serve 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: The municipalities in Nebraska include 544 cities and villages. There are 471 townships. Cities are divided into 4 classes according to population. The minimum population requirement for incorporation as a village 100. There are 2,655 elected board members governing the municipalities. Township boards have a total of 1,413 members. Most municipal board members serve 4-year terms. Most elections are held every 2 years, in the spring of even-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 191 courts and approximately 111 judges in Nebraska. There are 7 supreme court judges and 47 district court judges. Supreme court judges, district court judges, county court judges, juvenile court judges, and judges serving in the Omaha and Lincoln Municipal courts are appointed initially by the governor. At the conclusion of the first 3 years following their initial appointments, these judges must face election for retention in office. If retained, they serve for 6 years. County court judges are elected on a nonpartisan ballot to serve initial terms of 4 years, after which they run for retention. If retained, they also serve 6-year terms. One elected sheriff is authorized in each of 93 counties.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are a total of 977 school districts divided into 6 categories on the basis of the kinds of services offered and the size of the populations served. Elected and appointed boards serve the districts.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are some 1,157 special districts, served by 5,669 governing board members.

NEW HAMPSHIRE
0 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of New Hampshire is 977,000; the black population is 4,865, or 0.4 percent of the total; total voting age population is 722,000; and the black voting age population is 2,890. The total number of registered voters is 498,000.

FEDERAL: New Hampshire has 2 congressional districts. The black population of each is less than 1 percent.

STATE: New Hampshire has 24 seats in the Senate; members are elected from single-member districts. The 400 seats in the House are filled from 161 districts. All members of the General Court serve 2-year terms. The General Court convenes in Concord.

COUNTY: There are 10 counties and 30 county commissioners in New Hampshire. Most commissioners are elected by district to 2-year terms. Four counties elect commissioners at large; 2 of those counties have district residence requirements.

MUNICIPAL: Thirteen cities, which have been established by legislative act, represent New Hampshire's municipalities. There are also 224 townships. About 2,400 officials serve on municipal governing boards. Most elections are held in the spring; however, the frequency varies by municipality.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: The 73 courts in New Hampshire are served by 121 judgeship positions. There are 5 supreme court judges, 21 superior court judges, 84 district court judges, and 11 municipal court judges. All judges are appointed and serve until age 70. The registrar of probate for each probate court is elected and serves 2 years. One sheriff is elected for a 2-year term in each county. One elected constable is authorized for each town.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: Of the 169 school districts, 160 are independent fiscally and administratively. There are 788 board members, who serve 3-year terms. Most are elected.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 113 special districts governed by 299 elected board members.

NEW JERSEY

200 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of New Jersey is 7,515,000; the black population is 991,980, or 13 percent of the total; total voting age population is 5,659,000; and the black voting age population is 662,000. The total number of registered voters is 3,842,000; the number of black registered voters is 427,000.

FEDERAL: New Jersey has 14 congressional districts. The Tenth District (Newark) has the largest percentage of blacks, 54 percent.

STATE: The state legislature is composed of a Senate and a General Assembly. The Senate has 40 seats; members are elected from single-member districts. There are 80 General Assembly seats; members represent 40 districts. Senators elected the year following the U.S. Census serve 2-year terms and all other senators serve 4-year terms; assemblymen serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Trenton.

COUNTY: There are 21 counties and 135 members of governing boards, which are called boards of chosen freeholders. Members, called freeholders, are generally elected at large to 3-year terms except in Atlantic, Essex, and Hudson counties, which elect some freeholders by district.

MUNICIPAL: There are 567 municipalities designated as cities, towns, boroughs, villages, and townships. There are 3,028 elected members of municipal governing boards. Election schedules vary in cities, towns, and boroughs. Elections in most townships are held annually. There is some flexibility in the type of government a municipality may choose, but all municipalities are governed by some form of municipal council.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Most of New Jersey's judgeships are appointive. There are 630 courts. In addition, there are 7 supreme court judges, 24 judges in the appellate division of the superior court, 280 superior court judges, and 8 tax court judges. Municipal judges are appointed for 3-year terms, and tenured judges serve until age 70. There are 21 elected sheriffs.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 593 school districts in New Jersey, served by 4,467 elected school board members. Board members serve 3-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 437 special districts governed by 600 board members.

NEW MEXICO

5 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of New Mexico is 1,424,000; the black population is 22,784, or 2 percent of the total; total voting age population is 997,000; and the black voting age population is 16,950. The total number of registered voters is 694,000.

FEDERAL: New Mexico has 3 congressional districts. District Two (Las Cruces) has the largest black population, 3 percent.

STATE: The legislature has 42 seats in the Senate; members are elected from single-member districts. The 70 members of the House of Representatives are also elected from single-member districts. State senators serve terms of 4 years; representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Santa Fe.

COUNTY: There are 33 counties and 108 county commissioners. All commissioners are elected for 2- or 4-year terms. Most counties elect 3 commissioners at large, with district residence requirements.

MUNICIPAL: There are 98 cities, towns, and villages, served by about 435 board members. The minimum population requirement for incorporation is 150. In most places, elections are held every 2 years, in even-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 199 courts and 230 judgeships in New Mexico. Five supreme and 7 appeals court judges, who are elected during statewide general elections, serve for 8 years. Forty-nine district judges are elected to 6-year terms. Probate judges serve 2-year terms. Magistrates and municipal judges serve 4-year terms. All judges are elected on partisan ballots.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 88 school districts. School boards are independent fiscally and administratively. There are 459 elected school board members, who serve 6-year terms. The state education system is governed by a 10-member board of education. The members are elected to 6-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 101 special districts served by 450 board members.

POPULATION: The total population of New York is 17,735,000; the black population is 2,553,840, or 14 percent of the total; total voting age population is 13,326,000; and the black voting age population is 1,746,000. The total number of registered voters is 8,462,000; the number of black registered voters is 955,000.

FEDERAL: New York has 34 congressional districts. Five districts have black populations of 40 percent or more. They are the Sixth District (Jamaica Queens), 47 percent black; the Eleventh District (Bedford Stuyvesant Brooklyn), 47 percent black; the Twelfth District (Crown Heights Brooklyn), 78 percent black; the Sixteenth District (Harlem), 49 percent black; and the Eighteenth District (South Bronx), 44 percent black.

STATE: There are 61 seats in the state Senate, with members elected from single-member districts. There are 150 seats in the Assembly, with members elected from different single-member districts. All legislators serve terms of 2 years. The New York legislature convenes in Albany.

COUNTY: Five counties, called boroughs—Bronx, Kings (Brooklyn), New York (Manhattan), Queens, and Richmond (Staten Island)—are substantially consolidated into one governmental unit as the city of New York, which is classified as a municipality. There are 57 other counties and approximately 1,600 governing board members, who are usually called legislators or supervisors. Board members generally serve either 2- or 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 62 cities and 556 villages classified as municipalities. In addition, there are 932 townships. There are more than 7,000 municipal governing board members. The minimum population requirement for incorporation as a village is 500.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 3,435 judgeships. There are 7 court of appeals judges, 44 judges in the appellate divisions of the state supreme court, and 276 supreme court judges. Most judges are elected and their terms vary. Judges for the court of appeals and the New York City Criminal and Family courts are appointed. There are 57 elected sheriffs; 63 elected and appointed coroners serve 3-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 728 school districts of various types. Most are administratively and financially independent. Only 5 are classified as agencies of local governments. The total number of school board members in New York State is approximately 5,000; most are elected. New York State also has 44 Boards of Cooperative Education Services (BOCES), which were established to provide specialized educational services. The 369 BOCES board members are elected not by the public at large but by the component school boards, and are therefore not covered by the Roster.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 923 special districts.

NORTH CAROLINA

311 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of North Carolina is 6,165,000; the black population is 1,380,960, or 22 percent of the total; total voting age population is 4,559,000; and the black voting age population is 944,000. The total number of registered voters is 2,982,000; the number of black registered voters is 562,000.

FEDERAL: North Carolina has 11 congressional districts. The Second District (Durham) has the largest percentage of black residents, 36 percent. It is followed by the First District (Cape Hatteras), which is 32 percent black. Other districts with substantial black populations are the Third District (Goldsboro) and the Seventh District (Fayetteville), both 25 percent black; the Ninth District (Charlotte), 21 percent; Sixth District (Greensboro), 19 percent; and Fourth and Eighth Districts (Raleigh and Salisbury), 18 percent each.

STATE: The General Assembly has 50 seats in the Senate; members are elected from 35 districts. There are 120 seats in the House of Representatives; members are elected from 72 districts. All legislators serve 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Raleigh.

COUNTY: There are 100 counties in North Carolina and at least 300 county commissioners. Most commissioners are elected at large. Only 8 commissioners from 2 counties are elected by district. Most commissioners serve either 2- or 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 492 cities, towns, and villages classified as municipalities. Approximately 2,300 councilmembers serve on governing boards for 2- or 4-year terms as specified by municipal charter.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 691 judgeships and 202 courts in North Carolina. All judges are elected, except for magistrates and special judges of the superior court. The 7 supreme court justices, 12 court of appeals judges, and 64 superior court judges serve 8-year terms. Most constable, coroner, and marshal offices have been abolished. The 100 sheriffs serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 199 school districts, which are run by local governments. Of the 199, 100 are county districts, 41 are city districts, and 58 are community colleges. All county districts have elected boards of education. Of the city districts, half have appointed boards and half have elected boards. The state has 950 elected board members. Most school board elections are held every 4 years; terms are usually staggered.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 321 special districts, run by special boards, most of whose members are appointed. However, 452 board members are elected.

NORTH DAKOTA

0 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of North Dakota is 686,000; the black population is 2,538, or 0.4 percent of the total; total voting age population is 491,000; and the black voting age population is 1,500. The total number of registered voters is 451,000.

FEDERAL: The state of North Dakota constitutes one congressional district. Blacks are less than 1 percent of the state's population.

STATE: The Legislative Assembly comprises 53 seats in the Senate and 106 seats in the House of Representatives. The 53 Senate seats represent single-member districts; the 106 House seats represent 53 districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The Assembly convenes in Bismarck.

COUNTY: There are 53 counties and 215 county commissioners in North Dakota. Commissioners are elected by district to 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 365 municipal governments designated as cities. In addition there are 1,360 township governments. There is no minimum population requirement for incorporation. Approximately 5,770 elected officials serve on municipal boards. Most cities hold elections every 2 years, in even-numbered years, and townships hold elections annually.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: All 286 judgeship positions in North Dakota are filled by nonpartisan elections. The 5 supreme court judges serve 10 years; the 26 district court judges, 6 years; and all other judges, 4 years. There are 53 elected sheriffs.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 325 school districts and 293 public school boards. North Dakota school boards have a total of 1,652 members, all of whom are elected.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 692 special districts and 2,952 elected governing board members.

OHIO

209 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Ohio is 10,752,000; the black population is 1,096,704, or 10 percent of the total; total voting age population is 7,846,000; and the black voting age population is 753,216. The total number of registered voters is 5,461,000; the number of black registered voters is 553,000.

FEDERAL: Ohio has 21 congressional districts. The Twenty-first District includes Cleveland's East Side and has the largest percentage of black residents, 58 percent. The Second and Third districts (East Cincinnati and Dayton, respectively) follow with black populations of 16 percent each.

STATE: The Ohio General Assembly comprises 33 seats in the Senate and 99 seats in the House of Representatives. Members of both the Senate and the House are elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Columbus.

COUNTY: There are 88 counties and 268 county commissioners in Ohio. They are elected at large, and serve 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 942 municipalities in Ohio classified as cities and villages. There are 1,495 townships. The townships are governed by 4,485 members of boards of trustees. Municipalities are governed by 5,890 councilmembers and commissioners, who serve 2- to 4-year terms. Municipalities hold elections every 2 years, in odd-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 647 judgeship positions in 271 courts, excluding the mayor's court judges. There are 7 supreme court judges, 52 appeals court judges, and 321 judges in the courts of common pleas. With 2 exceptions, all judges are elected to office for terms of 6 years. County judges serve 4 years. In the mayor's court, the mayor acts as a judge for the length of his term. All judicial elections are nonpartisan. A sheriff and a coroner are elected to 4-year terms in each of Ohio's 88 counties.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 615 school districts in the state. The 376 local school districts are part of 87 county school districts. All school districts have elected school boards. Most boards are comprised of 5 members elected to 4-year terms. A few city school districts have 7-member boards. School board elections are held in odd-numbered years and are staggered. In addition, there are 49 joint vocational school districts, whose board members are appointed. The state Board of Education consists of 21 members—one elected from each of the congressional districts; they serve staggered 6-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 377 special districts. Most board members are appointed; 488 are elected.

OKLAHOMA

116 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Oklahoma is 3,298,000; the black population is 220,966, or 7 percent of the total; total voting age population is 2,452,000; and the black voting age population is 150,000. The total number of registered voters is 1,729,000; the number of black registered voters is 105,000.

FEDERAL: Oklahoma has 6 congressional districts. The two districts with the largest percentages of black residents are the Sixth District (Oklahoma City-Enid) and the First District (Tulsa), both 9 percent black.

STATE: The Oklahoma legislature members are elected from 48 single-member Senate districts and 101 single-member House districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Oklahoma City.

COUNTY: There are 77 counties and 231 county commissioners in Oklahoma. All are elected by district and serve 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: Oklahoma has 584 municipalities and 2,920 governing board members. Councilmembers and aldermen, who sit on city boards, serve 4-year terms. Trustees, who serve on town boards, are elected for 4-year terms.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: Oklahoma has 200 courts with 510 judgeship positions. The 9 supreme court judges and 3 judges of the court of criminal appeals are initially appointed by the governor and subsequently elected to 6-year terms. Twelve court of appeals and 202 district court judges are elected and serve 6- and 4-year terms, respectively. Municipal court judges are appointed by the mayor with consent of a municipal governing body. There are 77 elected sheriffs, who serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 613 school districts and about 2,800 board members. Most of the school districts are administratively and fiscally independent; 156 are agencies of local governments. Members of independent school boards serve 5-year terms. Members of school boards that are agencies of local governments serve 3-year terms. Elections are held each year, in January and April.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 916 special districts and 1,631 governing board members.

PENNSYLVANIA

134 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Pennsylvania is 11,901,000; the black population is 1,056,808, or 9 percent of the total; total voting age population is 8,989,000; and the black voting age population is 737,100. The total number of registered voters is 5,852,000; the number of black registered voters is 525,500.

FEDERAL: Pennsylvania has 23 congressional districts. Two districts, each located in the city of Philadelphia, have substantial black populations. They are the First District, 29 percent; and the Second District, 76 percent. The Fourteenth District (Pittsburgh) also has a substantial black population, 19 percent.

STATE: The Pennsylvania General Assembly comprises 50 seats in the Senate and 203 seats in the House of Representatives; all members are elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Harrisburg.

COUNTY: The 66 counties and 1 city-county are governed by 219 county commissioners, who are elected for 4-year terms. In 62 counties, the governing bodies are elected at large and members serve on 3-member county commissions. The counties of Erie, Lehigh, Northampton, Delaware, and Lackawanna have home rule and a county council. The city-county of Philadelphia is counted as a municipality.

MUNICIPAL: There are 1,021 municipalities in Pennsylvania, including 53 cities and 968 boroughs. There are 1,552 townships. Approximately 12,148 municipal board members are elected and serve 4-year terms. Municipalities may adopt home-rule charters that allow them to determine the structure of their own government and what services it will perform. Elections are held in November of odd-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 923 judgeship positions and 368 courts in Pennsylvania. Most judges, including the 7 on the supreme court, 15 on the superior court, 9 on the commonwealth court, and 309 on the court of common pleas, are elected in partisan elections to serve 10-year terms. Justices of the peace, municipal, district, and Philadelphia traffic court judges serve 6 years. There are 66 sheriffs and 65 coroners, all elected to 4-year terms; 3,500 constables are elected, serving 6-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 501 school districts. With the exception of Philadelphia, all of these districts have elected boards, each of which has 9 members. The board of Philadelphia is appointed. Elections are held every 2 years, during the November municipal election.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: The 2,050 special districts or authorities are governed by appointed board members.

SOUTH CAROLINA

329 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of South Carolina is 3,300,000; the black population is 996,600, or 30 percent of the total; total voting age population is 2,386,000; and the black voting age population is 661,000. The total number of registered voters is 1,393,000; the number of black registered voters is 411,100.

FEDERAL: South Carolina has 6 congressional districts. Each has a substantial black population. The district with the largest percentage of black residents is the Sixth District (Florence), which is 37 percent black. Three other districts are at least 25 percent black: the First District (Charleston), 29 percent; the Second District (Columbia), 32 percent; and the Fifth District (Rock Hill), 29 percent.

STATE: South Carolina's General Assembly has 46 seats in the Senate, whose members are elected from single-member districts. The House has 124 members, who represent single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms. The General Assembly convenes in Columbia.

COUNTY: There are 46 counties and about 300 county councilmembers, who serve 2- or 4-year terms. The number of members on each board ranges from 3 to 12.

MUNICIPAL: There are 265 cities and towns classified as municipalities and about 1,300 board members, who serve for 4 years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 790 judgeship positions and 665 courts in South Carolina. Five supreme court judges and 31 circuit court judges serve 10 and 6 years, respectively. Supreme, appellate, and circuit judges are elected by the legislature. City court judges and magistrates are appointed by the governor. Family court judges are elected by the General Assembly. Probate judges are elected on a partisan ballot. There are 46 elected sheriffs and 46 elected coroners.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 92 school districts, and organizational patterns vary greatly, yet all districts are considered subdivisions of the state. Thirty are countywide districts and are fiscally independent. Seventy-seven districts have elected school boards, 13 have appointed school boards, and two have combined elected-appoinited school boards. There are approximately 600 school board members in the state.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 242 special districts served by 343 elected board members.

SOUTH DAKOTA
3 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of South Dakota is 706,000; the black population is 2,118, or 0.3 percent of the total. The total voting age population is 498,000; and the black voting age population is 1,500. The total number of registered voters is 386,000.

FEDERAL: South Dakota has 1 congressional district. Blacks constitute less than 1 percent of the population.

STATE: The legislature comprises 35 seats in the Senate and 70 seats in the House of Representatives; members of the Senate and the House are elected from 35 districts. Senators and representatives serve 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Pierre.

COUNTY: There are 66 county governments; 13 elect commissioners at large and 53 elect commissioners by district. The 304 county commissioners are elected to 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 1,308 cities, towns, and townships, governed by 4,386 board members. In most municipalities, elections are held annually.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: The state Judicial Department was reorganized in 1975 when district, county, municipal, justice-of-the-peace, and police magistrate courts were abolished. There is now one supreme court with 5 judges, and 8 circuit court systems. Circuit courts have 35 judges, who are elected to 8-year terms. A magistrate division of the circuit courts was established and there are 94 magistrates, who are appointed. Each county elects a sheriff and a coroner for 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 195 school districts and approximately 1,120 elected board members. School board members serve 3-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 199 special districts and authorities; they are served by 681 elected board members.

TENNESSEE

142 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Tennessee is 4,717,000; the black population is 735,852, or 16 percent of the total; total voting age population is 3,476,000; and the black voting age population is 500,544. The total number of registered voters is 2,485,000; the number of black registered voters is 393,000.

FEDERAL: Tennessee has 9 congressional districts. The Ninth District (Memphis) is 51 percent black. Other districts with substantial black populations are the Third District (Chattanooga), which is 11 percent black; the Fifth District (Nashville), which is 20 percent black; the Seventh District (Shelby County East), which is 11 percent black; and the Eighth District (Shelby County North), which is 18 percent black.

STATE: The General Assembly, which convenes in Nashville, comprises 33 seats in the Senate and 99 seats in the House of Representatives. All members are elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 95 counties. In most counties, the governing body is the board of county commissioners. All board members are elected by district following a 1974 U.S. Supreme Court decision. There are about 1,705 county governing board members, who serve 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: There are 333 municipalities and approximately 1,600 elected governing board members, who serve 2- and 4-year terms. The minimum population requirement for incorporation is 200. The consolidated Nashville-Davidson County Metropolitan Government is also counted as a municipality. Elections are usually held every 2 years, in even-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 148 trial and appellate court judges in Tennessee. Most judges serve 8-year terms. There are 5 supreme court judges, 12 appeals court judges, 9 criminal appeals court judges, 30 chancery court judges, 66 circuit court judges, and 26 criminal court judges. There are 95 elected sheriffs and 1 constable per district. They serve 4-year terms.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 142 school districts in Tennessee. All are independent administratively and fiscally. There are approximately 820 elected school board members.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 469 special districts and authorities. Most board members are appointed; however, 570 members are elected.

TEXAS

281 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of Texas is 15,989,000; the black population is 1,854,724, or 12 percent of the total; total voting age population is 11,487,000 and the black voting age population is 1,264,000. The total number of registered voters is 7,478,000; the number of black registered voters is 825,000.

FEDERAL: Texas has 27 congressional districts. The district with the largest percentage of black residents is the Eighteenth District which is 39 percent black and includes the city of Houston. Two other districts with substantial black populations are the Twenty-fourth District (Dallas-South), 29 percent, and the Twenty-fifth District (Houston-South), 23 percent.

STATE: The Texas legislature has 31 seats in the Senate; members are elected from single-member districts. The House of Representatives has 150 members, all elected from single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives, 2-year terms. The legislature convenes in Austin.

COUNTY: There are 254 counties, each governed by a county board called a commissioners court. Each county elects 5 members—4 district members and 1 at-large member. All members serve 4-year terms. County boards are called commissioner courts.

MUNICIPAL: There are 1,150 incorporated cities, villages, and towns. The minimum population required to incorporate is 201. Most municipal elections are held annually.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are more than 2,000 judgeship positions in Texas. There are 9 supreme court judges, 9 court of criminal appeals judges, 94 court of civil appeals judges, and 347 district court judges. All judges are elected, with the exception of some members of the municipal courts, who are appointed by the municipal governing body. The terms of municipal court judges vary in length from one year to an indefinite period; terms of other court judges are specifically for 4 or 6 years. There are 254 elected sheriffs and approximately 750 constables in Texas. All serve 4-year terms. In addition, one marshal is elected for each municipality.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 1,074 school districts in Texas, including 47 college districts, which are administratively and financially independent. Approximately 7,500 persons serve on the school boards. All are elected, and 90 percent serve 3-year terms. Others serve for 6 years. Most school board elections are held each April.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 1,681 special districts in Texas and 7,585 board members; 4,912 members are elected.

POPULATION: The total population of Utah is 1,652,000; the black population is 9,912, or 0.6 percent of the total; total voting age population is 1,040,000; and black voting age population is 6,250. The total number of registered voters is 797,000.

FEDERAL: Utah has 3 congressional districts. The black population of each district is 1 percent or less.

STATE: The Utah legislature, which convenes in Salt Lake City, comprises 29 seats in the Senate and 75 seats in the House of Representatives. All legislators represent single-member districts. Senators serve 4-year terms; representatives serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 29 counties in Utah. Counties are grouped into 6 categories based on their assessed valuations. First-class counties, which have the highest valuation, are assessed at $150 million or more. In contrast, sixth-class counties are valued at less than $5 million. There are 94 county commissioners, most of whom are elected at large. They serve 2- to 4-year terms.

MUNICIPAL: Utah's 224 municipalities are governed by 971 board members, who serve for 4 years. Municipalities are classified by population size. First-class cities have at least 100,000 residents. Second-class cities have 60,000 to 99,999 residents. Third-class cities have populations of 800 to 59,999. The minimum requirement for municipal incorporation is 100 people. Municipal elections are usually held every 2 years, in odd-numbered years.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are about 125 judgeship positions and 120 courts in Utah. Along with circuit court judges, 5 supreme and 25 district court judges are initially appointed by the governor. Supreme court judges serve for 10 years; district and circuit court judges serve for 6 years. Justice court judges serve for 4 years and are elected in each precinct, except in towns where justices of the peace are appointed. There are 29 elected sheriffs in Utah. All serve 4-year terms. Utah has no elected coroners.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 40 school districts, 1 in each county and 1 in first- and second-class city. In addition, some populous counties have more than 1 school district. County and city districts have elected boards. There are about 209 board members. All serve 4-year terms.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are 211 special districts, governed by 426 elected board members.

VERMONT

1 Black Elected Official

POPULATION: The total population of Vermont is 530,000; the black population is 1,060, or 0.2 percent of the total. The total voting age population is 391,000; the total number of registered voters is 291,000. Both the black voting age population and the number of black registered voters are less than 1,000.

FEDERAL: The state of Vermont constitutes one congressional district. The black population is less than 1 percent.

STATE: The General Assembly, which convenes in Montpelier, has 30 seats in the Senate and members are elected from 13 districts. There are 150 seats in the House of Representatives and members are elected from 106 districts. Senators and representatives serve 2-year terms.

COUNTY: There are 14 counties in Vermont and 28 assistant judges, who serve as the principal county administrators. Counties perform limited functions, chiefly maintaining the courthouse and county jail. Each county elects 2 governing body members.

MUNICIPAL: Vermont has 296 municipalities—59 cities and villages and 237 towns—which are governed by 1,160 board members. Most municipal board members serve 1- or 3-year terms. Elections are held annually.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 76 judgeship positions and 50 courts in Vermont. Five supreme, 10 superior, and 18 district court judges are appointed by the governor. These judges serve 6-year terms. Probate court judges and assistant judges of the superior court are elected and serve 4-year terms. Fourteen sheriffs, one per county, are elected to serve for 4 years. Each town elects 1 or 2 constables, who serve for 1 year.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: There are 276 school districts; all are administratively and fiscally independent. Approximately 1,300 school board members serve on elected boards. Their terms range from 1 to 3 years. Elections are held each March.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: Vermont has 83 special districts governed by about 240 elected board members.

UNITED STATES VIRGIN ISLANDS

40 Black Elected Officials

POPULATION: The total population of the Virgin Islands is 96,569; the black population is 76,951, or 80 percent of the total; total voting age population is 54,773; and the black voting age population is 40,760. There are 30,065 registered voters.

FEDERAL: The U.S. Virgin Islands, which includes St. Thomas, St. John, and St. Croix, is a territory of the United States. In 1917, the islands were purchased by the United States from the Danish government for defense purposes. Virgin Islanders, who are U.S. citizens, are represented in the U.S. House of Representatives by one nonvoting delegate. The Virgin Islands constitutes one congressional district. The U.S. Department of the Interior appoints a U.S. comptroller for the islands.

TERRITORIAL: The legislature of the Virgin Islands is unicameral. It comprises 15 senators, who are elected from the 3 islands. One senator is elected at large. All legislators serve for 2 years. The governor and lieutenant governor serve 4-year terms. The governor appoints an administrator for each island.

JUDICIAL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT: There are 2 court systems in the Virgin Islands, the federal court system and the local territorial court system. The U.S. District Court, located in St. Croix and St. Thomas, has 2 judges and 2 magistrates who are appointed by the president of the United States. The territorial court, which has a court in St. Croix, St. Thomas, and St. John, has 8 judges, all of whom are appointed by the governor with approval from the Senate. Territorial judges serve for 6 years or until a successor is designated.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS: The Virgin Islands has 2 school districts, which are agencies of municipal governments, 35 public schools, and a 9-member Board of Education, which is elected on a nonpartisan basis. The board is an agency of the territorial government. School board members are elected every 2 years, during the general election of senators.

SPECIAL DISTRICTS: There are airport, harbor, water, and power authorities. Board members for the authorities are appointed by the governor.
